SUMMARY

JUSTICE FOR ANTON MZIMBA

“A MAN OF INTEGRITY”
Edwin Pierce

ANTON MZIMBA THE RHINO MAN

On July 26th, 2022, Anton was murdered at his home by hit men in connection with rhino poaching. His wife was wounded and his children suffered the trauma of witnessing this event. His death instigated an international outcry for justice. More than two years later there have yet to be any arrests.

In the course of Anton's 25 year career at the Timbavati Private Nature Reserve he rose to the position of Head of Ranger Services where he oversaw an elite team of over 40 of the finest rangers. He was heavily involved with inspiring and educating the youth of his local community and was integral in training hundreds of rangers with Ruben De Kock at the Southern African Wildlife College. He was highly decorated, respected by leaders and rangers across the Kruger landscape, featured in movies, TV, podcasts, and major news outlets, and valued by many as a friend. As Ruben once said, "He was the ultimate ranger."

Many rangers in the Kruger Area and beyond are facing threats similar to Anton's. If these criminals can operate with impunity how can we expect rangers to do their critical jobs? More awareness, resources, and support must be brought to bear. Anton's case must be an example. Justice must be served.

Killing of a Ranger Protecting Rhinos Raises Fears For Conservation Efforts

International conservation groups are calling on police to step up efforts to arrest and convict the killers of Anton Mzimba, the Timbavati Nature Reserve's head of ranger services. Timbavati ranger Anton Mzimba was shot dead and his wife was critically injured in an attack at their Mpumalanga home on Tuesday last week.

The fatal shooting of the head ranger at the Timbavati reserve in South Africa has stoked concerns that organized poaching syndicates are targeting wildlife protectors. Anton Mzimba, the lead ranger at a reserve in South Africa, had received multiple death threats. But he tried not to let the warnings of danger get to him...

A Rhino Is Worth More Dead Than Alive

In July 2022, Anton Mzimba, a ranger in the Timbavati Private Nature Reserve, was assassinated in his front yard. In the weeks before the hit, Mzimba received word that a contract had been placed on his life because of his fight against rhino poaching.

He consulted with his superiors and colleagues; they say he believed he could outmaneuver the poaching syndicates. He was wrong. Shot repeatedly in front of his family, he bled to death before he reached the hospital.

“Anton was my friend,” says Altin Gysman, a 23-year veteran of the South African Army who now trains paramilitary conservation protection teams. “We trained together, and he was killed because he was true to his word. He would not be corrupted. That’s why they killed him. Now all our rangers must wonder, ‘Are we next?’”

Game ranger Anton Mzimba, who fought poaching efforts over the years to keep wildlife safe, was shot and killed this week. Details around the shooting are sketchy...

He stressed that rangers can't run away from the intimidation tactics and must keep fighting.

"If it was something money-driven or you were being forced to do it, obviously, you're gonna feel the pressure," Ndlovu said. "But because it's something I've wanted to do from an early age, I think that's where I get all the courage and bravery to keep going."

CAREER LEGACY

TRAINER & EDUCATOR SOUTHERN AFRICAN WILDLIFE COLLEGE

Not only was Anton trained and educated as a ranger and conservationist at the Southern African Wildlife College, but he often returned to work with Ruben and Marianne De Kock to aid in training future generations of rangers.

Anton was also integral in the development and implementation of courses like the Braveheart Leadership program.

HEAD OF RANGER SERVICES TIMBAVATI PRIVATE NATURE RESERVE

In June 1997, as a young man, Anton began his conservation career as an erosion fieldwork team member at the Timbavati Private Nature Reserve. Drawn and inspired by the reserve's beauty and wildlife, Anton showed his passion and willingness to do more. His early leadership skills shined through and were recognized by the reserve management.

In April 1998, Anton passed his basic field ranger training and started his journey as one of the youngest field rangers within the unit. In 2003, Anton was promoted to Full Corporal Instructor, overseeing the training program which aimed to keep his ranger team physically and mentally fit.

During this time, he developed the ranger teams' morale and work ethic, motivating them to continue their efforts against wildlife crime. The year 2008 saw Anton lifted to the leadership position, Head of Ranger Services.

TECHNICAL ADVISOR GLOBAL CONSERVATION CORPS (GCC)

Anton spent 7 years working with the Global Conservation Corps to develop the story for the documentary, RHINO MAN. As the relationship grew, he came to serve as a Technical Advisor to GCC, contributing to the creation of their Future Rangers Program, which provides conservation education and career pathways to local youth. The program now impacts over 15,000 students across Africa.

PURPOSE & BACKGROUND

Wildlife crime poses a serious environmental, economic, security and public health threat domestically and internationally. Despite legislation instituted to protect wildlife, actors routinely conduct the illegal import, export and breeding of protected animal wildlife. The purpose of this Operational Alert is to support reporting entities in recognizing financial transactions suspected of being related to the laundering of funds associated with the illegal wildlife trade of animals. In honor of Anton Mzimba the reporting term #ProjectANTON is used to disclose suspicious transactions.

“Together with our dedicated Project Anton partners in Canada and around the world, we are determined to follow the money and leverage the power of financial intelligence to help target, disrupt and dismantle the organized criminal networks that profit from this insidious illicit activity.”

FACTS & STATISTICS

“Rangers are buying us time. It’s what we do with that time that matters.”

~Anton Mzimba

RANGERS BACKGROUND

Rangers, forest guards, wildlife officers. They serve under various titles and their work is vast, yet one thread unites them: They all work to protect the natural world. Conservation couldn’t happen without them.

The term “ranger” refers to any professional involved in the protection and management of national parks, natural areas, wildlife and cultural sites. They patrol protected areas, monitor wildlife, prevent poaching, engage local communities in conservation, help communities resolve human-wildlife conflicts, and assist with tourism.

Ranger work is often gruelling and dangerous. These men and women remain in remote field locations for long stretches of time, separated from home and family for weeks or even months. Ranger salaries are typically low, and teams often lack the necessary equipment, training, or working conditions required on the job. They deserve recognition and support.

FACTS & STATISTICS

RHINO POACHING BACKGROUND

Rhinos have been around for millions of years and play a crucial role in their ecosystems. They are important grazers and browsers, consuming large amounts of vegetation, which helps shape the African and Asian landscapes.

The latest African rhino poaching crisis (white and black rhino species) began in 2007 with the increase in demand for their horn in China and Southeast Asia. The horn is often ground into a powder and used in traditional medicine as a headache cure. Rhino horn is made of keratin, which can be found in your hair and finger nails. It does not have any significant scientifically proven medicinal properties. More recently, rhino horn has been used as a purported cancer cure, an aphrodisiac, and a status symbol in the form of engravings and libation cups.

At the height of the crisis, in 2015, rhinos were being poached at up to 3 per day. Since 2007, Kruger National Park has lost nearly 10,000 rhinos. Worldwide, rhino numbers have dipped to 27,000. After a lull, poaching in South Africa is on the rise.

“I was his class mate at SAWC and I know what it takes to be a conservationist. I know how much Anton Mzimba gave himself to conservation. In respect to his family and efforts, his death cannot just be one more ordinary death in South Africa. The Conservation world lost a valuable member.”

“I am so sorry they did this to you, took your life in front of your loved ones. Justice should be done! May your family be taken good care of! I hope you get an official posthumous

“Anton was a true hero and a very close friend of mine. Fighting for the rhinos and wildlife was a calling from God. He told me this multiple times. He was not only dedicated to the cause, but he was one of the most loving and caring human beings I have ever met. A friend, a father, a husband, and a legend of conservation. Those that did this crime must pay. For Anton and for all rangers fighting for our planet. May justice be swift!”

“If we don't address the decay of law and order and those that uphold our laws that are under severe pressure, we are essentially condoning transnational organised criminal syndicates and all those that work for them. Anton was murdered for being honest and fighting against criminality in society. We owe it to his legacy, our future and to the ordinary honest and principled citizens of this country and the world. Let's send a message that is loud and clear.”

“Rangers serve to protect our Earth and all that God created. Murders and thieves should be brought to justice. How can one kill another for only doing good? My own husband Wayne Lotter was assassinated for his anti-poaching work and successes. It is beyond words how that affects their families and loved ones as well.”
